BEYOND THE BORDER.
GENERAL ESCOBEDO CAPTURED.
Running Down the Raiders.

National Associated Press to the Star.
WASHINGTON, July 24.—The news from the Rio Grande, that Mackenzie has crossed the border just above the mouth of the Pecos River, in pursuit of the Mexican raiders, with eight hundred men, shows that the more vigorous Mexican policy determined upon by our Government is being carried out. Usually, the troops following these Mexican cattle thieves across the border, have never exceeded two hundred men.
It is not intended by any means, as stated in Administration circles, to bring on any trouble with the Mexican Government, but it is thought best to show the Mexican people that this country intends to protect her citizens from foreign depredations.

For this reason Mackenzie has a force at his back sufficient to follow up and punish the raiders. The old element in this city that wants a difficulty with Mexico is delighted over the news and says it means war. Of course there are no plausible grounds for their statement. Mackenzie is only carrying out the former policy decided upon by the Government.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, July 24.—Col. Muncie, in command of Eagle Pass, announces the capture of Gen. Escobedo by Col. Cisneros, of Diaz's army, at a ranch near Cuatro Chilenos. The report is confirmed by official dispatches to the Mexican Consul here. Gen. Escobedo was taken to Monterrey.

A TURBULENT OFFICER.
LONDON, July 24.—A dispatch from Constantinople says that an English naval officer was recently court-martialed, at Besika, for wounding a Greek Yeniko, and also for inciting the seamen to fight, and was dismissed from the service.

PARIS, July 24.—A grand trial of reapers in connection with the Exposition, took place yesterday at Mornand. There were forty-three competitors. The McCormick reaper, of America, won the first prize. A grand banquet was subsequently given by parties interested, and America was highly complimented.

VIENNA, July 24.—The Italian Government has forwarded to the Austrian Government an official communication regretting the demonstrations against the Austrian Embassy.

LONDON, July 24.—The Queen has conferred the order of Knight of the Garter upon the Marquis of Salisbury, and this order with further honors await the return of Mr. Layard from Constantinople.

DEATH OF A SAVANT.
VIENNA, July 24.—Prof. Karl Pokitsky, the eminent physician and author, died in this city yesterday, aged seventy-four years.

THE AUSTRIAN FRONTIER.
The Austrian pioneers crossed the Bosnian frontier yesterday.

Laying in Their Blankets.
National Associated Press to the Star.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The largest auction sale of blankets ever made in this country was held yesterday by order of Whittemore, Piet, Post & Co. The offerings embraced six thousand cases of blankets, carriage robes, lap robes and horse blankets, being the entire production of the Clinton Mills, Norwalk Woolen Company, Waumbeck Company, Windthrop Mills Company and Norway Plains Company. The lot consisted of all sizes and grades and buyers were from all parts of the country.

Business Failures.
Bryce & Smith, wholesale liquor dealers, failed yesterday. Liabilities about $200,000, assets unknown, but believed to be very small in comparison with the liabilities.

The suspension of the Boston Belting Company has caused the suspension of the New York Belting and Packing Company.
No statement of assets or liabilities are given.

The Spanish General.
Gen. Nicholas Cassina, of the Spanish army, who was charged with seducing Miss Emma Collins, was discharged from custody yesterday afternoon by Justice Smith. The Judge said: "It is now proper for me to say that this girl informed the clerk of this Court before the charge of seduction had been made that Gen. Cassina had never promised to marry her. That admission definitely settles the affair. I hold, and have held, that any man in this city and State can maintain any relations with any woman if she desires and permits him to do so, without becoming criminally liable.
General Cassina, you are discharged." Justice Smith's decision excited much comment among the counsel.

Behold the Loper.
There are said to be two or three cases of genuine leprosy in the Charity Hospital, Blackwell's Island. The lepers come from Cuba. One of the isolated sufferers is a New Yorker and an ex-member of the Volunteer Fire Department.

What Williams Says.
The Hon. Geo. H. Williams, Attorney General under President Grant, is at the Metropolitan Hotel. He was asked last evening for his views in relation to the re-nomination of Gen. Grant. Mr. Williams had read the published remarks of Ex-Secretary Fish, and said: "What Mr.
Fish says is right. There's a general feeling among Republicans, as far as my observation has extended, that General Grant will receive the nomination, and that if he is nominated he will be the next President."

Preparing for Steam.
F. B. Spinelli, a member of the Assembly,

FIGHTING FACTIONS.

Conflict Between Marshals and Metropolitans in East St. Louis.

National Associated Press to the Star.

ST. LOUIS, July 24.—The Illinois & St.
Louis Railroad Company has been for several years endeavoring to obtain a right to lay a track in East St. Louis, connecting their road with the bridge. About a year ago they made an attempt, but Judge Baker, of Illinois, issued a perpetual injunction against them. Some six weeks ago the Company obtained from what is known as the "Wider" Council a right of way, and yesterday morning two hundred men, accompanied by an armed guard, proceeded to lay the track. Over a block was laid without trouble, but finally a watchman discovered them and gave the alarm, and several Deputy Marshals were soon on the scene, when Mayor Bowman drove up.

He drew his carriage up in front of the last section that had been laid, and in a loud voice commanded the men to desist, telling them that the Courts had granted a perpetual injunction against it.

This Superintendent Sherman, of the Railroad Company, denied, and told the Mayor that unless he withdrew force would be used. By this time a crowd was on the ground. Mr. Sherman called upon Captain Becker and his thirty men to remove the Mayor's buggy. An attempt was made, but the Marshals came to the rescue, and the construction force were overawed and retired. The crowd then tore the track up and proceeded to burn the material. Superintendent Sherman, in trying to stop the destruction of their property, was badly hurt. The railroad officials assert their determination to lay the track at all hazards, and have called upon the Governor and Sheriff for protection. More trouble seems inevitable.

Special to the Star.
EAST ST. LOUIS, July 24.—About 6 o'clock yesterday evening, a party of Metropolitans and a squad of Bowman's Marshals came to a collision in the street, and about a dozen shots were fired. The Bowmanites retreated to the Market-house and the Metropolitans fled to the Engine-house, about a hundred yards distant. The firing was then resumed and kept up quite lively for over a half hour. Lieut. O'Neill and Capt. Renshaw, of the Metropolitans; Bob Russell, a Bowmanite, and Turney Chapman, together with Mayor Bowman's horse, were wounded. A little girl, six years old, lost three fingers by a stray ball. At 12 o'clock all was serene.

CRIME AND CASUALTY.
National Associated Press to the Star.

REDEMPTION ROW.
WHEELING, W. VA., July 24.—Monday a secret organization called "Red Men," who became famous for their numerous lynchings and similar deeds of violence, destroyed a saloon in Mannington, W. Va., tearing the building all to pieces. It was owned by Mr. Cartwright, whose son Carl was recently accused of murder, and who was generally believed guilty.

The mob horsewhipped a man named Beatty, who was a witness in the murder case, and gave him forty-eight hours to leave the country.

Another witness has been given six weeks to settle up his business and leave.

MURDER BY ITS MOTIVE.
A woman calling herself Mrs. Fairburn, living in Roane County, killed her four-year-old illegitimate child on the 19th. She was recovering from an attack of sickness and the child was playing by her bedside, when she suddenly sprang up, seized it by the feet and dashed its head across the headboard of the bed, killing it instantly.

BARN BURNED.
PRINCETON, ILL., July 24.—Last night the fine barn, situated on the east side of Nicholas Cottrell, two miles east of this place, was destroyed by fire, together with one span of horses, thirty tons of hay, thirty head of hogs, a windmill and tank, and all the farming implements except a reaper.
Loss $4,000; insurance $3,200.

THE WAY THEY DO IN WARREN COUNTY.
DES MOINES, IA., July 24.—Sunday evening, K. Proctor, brother of Reub. Proctor, who was hanged by vigilants in Warren County, was taken from his home, severely cowed, and told to leave the county in ten days or he would meet the fate of his brother. None of the cowering party were disguised, but were strangers.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY IN VIRGINIA.
BALTIMORE, MD., July 24.—A dispatch from Gordonsville, Va., dated July 23d, says: Wilson Houchins, who lives near Fluvanna Court-house, has for the last five years threatened to take the lives of the members of his family. Not long since his wife discovered him stealing over her with a drawn dagger. She in some way prevented the fatal act then. He begged her not to say anything about it.

Since then Mrs. Houchins has been compelled to take her little ones three in number and leave home to save them on several occasions. Yesterday Houchins carried out his premeditated design by murdering his wife, mother-in-law and a child, then killing himself. The oldest boy, about seven years old, saw his father commence the attack upon his mother, seized the baby, who was lying in the cradle, and made for a neighbor's house, thereby saving himself and the infant. The murder was committed with an axe. The cause of this horrible crime is not fully explained. The man, however, is supposed to have been insane and jealous.

TEXAS DEMOCRACY.
AUSTIN, TEXAS, July 24.—At the State Democratic Convention held here, Orrin M.
Roberts was nominated for Governor, James D. Sayers for Lieutenant Governor, and Gen. H. B. McCormick for Attorney General.

SUICIDE AT NEW ORLEANS.
NEW ORLEANS, July 25.—At 20 minutes after 12 yesterday, C. S. Sanvinit, colored, aged forty-nine years, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. The act was caused by despair of his son, who is in the last stage of consumption. Sanvinit was Civil Sheriff in his parish under War-mouth's administration.

MARIE ROZE.

She Takes a Turn with the Saddle

National Associated Press to the Star.

RICHFIELD SPRING, N. Y., July 24.—Marie Roze had a most miraculous escape yesterday. She was riding on horseback with a party of ladies and gentlemen, and while at full gallop her saddle-girth broke and she was thrown violently to the ground with the saddle. Mr. Carleton, who was riding behind her and unable to change the course of his horse, caused his animal to jump over her prostrate body, and so, by almost a miracle, she escaped the hoofs of the two horses. All the company was almost paralyzed with fright, but Marie Roze, notwithstanding her arm was cut and body badly bruised, insisted on riding four miles to the hotel.

Another Departure.

Special to the Star.

BATAVIA, O., July 24.—This county is again in a fever of excitement over the reported disappearance of J. H. Sharp, Treasurer of Williamsburg Township, who is charged with forgery and other crookedness. Sharp kept a dry goods store in Williamsburg.

Sam Bass, the train robber, who died of his wounds in Texas, was born at Mitchell, Ind., and was only twenty-seven years old.

GRANT AT HAMBURG.

He Fights His Battles Over Again, and Reviews Both Armies.

National Associated Press to the Star.

NEW YORK, July 24.—A Hamburg correspondent, writing under date of July 6th, says Ex-President Grant arrived there July 2d. In a conversation the General gave his views about the American war and its Generals. Among other things he said if he had known the soldiers and Generals of the Potomac army better he would have preferred to invest Lee in Richmond from Lynchburg or the land side, as he invested Pemberton in Vicksburg.

He says his total loss in the Wilderness campaign amounted to only thirty-nine thousand men. He says General Butler wishes he had had able subordinates, and expresses regret that an unlucky phase in his official reports should have annoyed Butler. He thinks Jefferson Davis did all he could for the Confederacy, and did not deserve the harsh criticism he got. He thinks Stonewall Jackson might not have proved so effective a General later in the war and opposed to men like Sherman and Sheridan, when his peculiar tactics would have failed.

He seems to think Lee not so great as his reputation, speaking of him, of course, as a soldier, not as a man. He was never so uneasy when in front of Lee as some of our other commanders, and he describes him as a man of slow mind, without imagination, and of grave dignity of demeanor. General Joe Johnston, in his opinion, was the ablest commander on the Southern side.
Of Bragg he appears to have but a poor opinion. He tells a singular story of President Johnson's desire at one time to arrest General Lee and the other Southern commanders for treason by way of making rebellion odious. Grant and Seward had, it seems, the means and good sense to oppose and defeat the folly, and General Grant says he would have resigned his command rather than consent to the arrest. Southern men being sacred under their parole to him.

Rosecranz, Buckner, McClellan, Buell, Stone and McDowell were, he says, in the opinion of the old army, most promising officers in 1861. He still thinks Buell had genius for the highest commands and Mc-Dowell was a man of great ability, and he can not account for the ill-luck of poor Stone, which has pursued him more than many other men who knew him as one of the most highly cultivated officers in the old army and one of its best soldiers. Sherman and Sheridan he praises without stint, and relates an odd story of his first meeting with the latter when Sheridan, who was then Colonel of a regiment, was rude to him.

Sherman, he says, is not only one of the best men living, but one of the greatest we have in our history, and he gives various accounts of how Sherman's narrative of the war was misrepresented to him, so that he determined to read it, pencil in hand, and publish a reply; but he found it a true book, an honorable book, just to all, and he approves every word of it.

Hancock he thinks was one of the ablest of our Generals. He did not want to go to West Point, never liked to command, and remonstrated against the creation of the grade of Lieutenant General made for him, though he saw the necessity for it later.

He dispels some romances of the war, as where he says there was no battle of Lookout Mountain, no action worthy to be called a battle. He says neither he, Sherman or Sheridan ever held a council of war. He determined on his course in private, and no one knew what he was about to do until orders were written out. Finally he speaks about his Presidential career, thinks the second term was almost his due, because he had been bitterly opposed, but relates that he refused peremptorily a third nomination, which was urged upon him.

POTTER'S PARTY

By the Sad Sea Waves.

National Associated Press to the Star.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 24.—After considerable delay the Potter Investigation Committee finally settled down to business about five o'clock yesterday afternoon. The delay, as Mr. Potter stated, was caused by the tardy arrival of some witnesses, who were thought best to call previous to Secretary Sherman, who with his wife and daughter arrived Tuesday evening. There are quite a number of witnesses at the United States Hotel, among them being Hons. Lyman Trumbull and William D.
Kelley, of Pennsylvania.

The members of the Committee present are Messrs. Potter, Springer, Hiseock and Butler. The first and only witness examined yesterday was Hon. Lorenzo Danford, member of the House of Representatives from Ohio. The examination was conducted by Mr. Hiseock, and was to the effect that the witness was a member of the Morrison Commission visiting New Orleans, arriving there on the evening of the 9th or 10th of December. He met James E.
Anderson, a previous witness, there. He had several conversations with him—a lengthy one during the first week. The conversations were voluntary on the part of Anderson.

Witness then said: "I had known Anderson during the Forty-fourth Congress as a correspondent of a newspaper, although I did not know until I met him in New Orleans that he was the Anderson of Feliciana Parish. He spoke generally of the condition of his parish as being the worst buldozed parish in the State. He then spoke of his own personal experience, his being attacked at night, pistol shots fired at him, and his clothing shot through, he escaping only by reason of the darkness. Anderson spoke to me as a Republican, and as having been thought best to call previous to Secretary Sherman, who with his wife and daughter arrived Tuesday evening. There are quite a number of witnesses at the United States Hotel, among them being Hons. Lyman Trumbull and William D.
Kelley, of Pennsylvania.

The women were all conveyed to the Station-houses in hacks and released on their own recognizance to appear to-morrow morning.

This was the first time a raid was ever made of such places during the daytime.
The police formed in squads and posted themselves at the front and back entrances of the houses.

The girls tried to escape, generally trying to get out the back way, but it was no go.
They were just as quickly taken in as they skipped over the fences.
It was fun for the boys, and at least a crowd of from five hundred to one thousand was at nearly every place pulled.
Frank Hall promptly appeared on the scene and bailed out most of the parties.

A LOAD OF SHOT.

Was it Intended for William Long or a Tom Cat?

The heretofore quiet little village known as the Highlands, a short distance back of Newport, Kentucky, was treated to a first-class sensation last evening about 5 o'clock.
At that hour Harry Southgate and William Long, the latter a cattle dealer residing in the neighborhood, were driving along the pike in a buggy.

When passing the residence of Hub.
Helm, the latter gentleman, who was standing at his front gate, pointed his shot gun in the direction of the buggy and discharged the weapon, at the same time remarking, "Don't stop in front of my gate with that s— of a b—." Fortunately the flying shot missed the parties and nobody was hurt.
Deputy Sheriff Hutchinson, of the place, at once put Helm under arrest. The latter was brought to Newport this morning and taken to Squire Buchanan, who put him under bonds in the sum of $200 to answer the charge Friday morning. Mr. Helm's explanation is that he discharged his gun at a tom cat who annoyed him exceedingly, and that his remarks were addressed to Southgate's dog, who came in the way at the critical moment.

not in any wise threatening to the general health.

National Associated Press to the Star.

EAST ST. LOUIS, July 24.—There have been no disturbances here to-day.

ODENSBURG, N. Y., July 24.—Hon. A. P.
Morse was found dead in his bed this morning.

ATHENS, July 24.—The great fires in The-saly, supposed to be of incendiary origin, continue to devastate the country.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Hon. R. E. Fenton, one of the Commissioners appointed by Congress to attend the International Monetary Conference at Paris, sailed to-day.

PARIS, July 24.—The Defense, a clerical journal, publishes a special dispatch from Rome announcing that the Papal Nuncio at Munich will go to Berlin to conclude an arrangement which will restore religious peace to Germany.

LATEST LOCAL.

JOHN DOE, alias Dugan, is wanted in New York on a charge of forgery on the Trust Company Bank of that city.

The $30 which were stolen from Mr. Kenedy, the Gallipolis merchant, was recovered to-day by Detective Duffy.

A DEFECTIVE flue and a small fire in a saloon, No. 271 John street, caused the alarm from Box 68, shortly before noon.

A LARGE amount of stolen dry-goods was found at No. 30 West Sixth street to-day.
James Spencer, eighteen years old, was taken in on a charge of stealing the same.

A JOINT meeting of the Hamilton County and Clermont County Commissioners will have a discussion this evening in this city, as to the Remington bridge.

New evidence is pouring in against Joe Payton. The officers of Hammond-street Station say that Payton, when searched there, showed up the empty cartridge, and that he remarked that the contents of it had killed Nellie Stickley.

Cincinnati Savings Society.
This is the last day for voting at the Cincinnati Savings Society on the question whether the bank should resume or not.

Up to this morning it seemed as if those in favor of "winding up" would carry the day, but after 10 o'clock the voting by proxy commenced, and votes in favor of continuing the concern were being polled lively.

Some depositors came in who had below $50 deposited and demanded a vote, but of course were told that they had no right to vote.

The tellers had a lively time of it to-day, and the way the tickets for continuing were put in the ballot box it would indicate that the proxies would be counted for winding up by a large majority.

The vote will be counted to-morrow and a report made at
